. . . and a Happy New Year

Happy 1960 surveys the destruction of the 1959 calendars in his collection, a move which is somehow symbolic.

Bright New Year Coming With Bright New Paper

Take a long look at today's issue of the newspaper which you are now reading.

This is the last edition of the paper which will have only seven columns on each page.

Beginning with the next edition, the first of the New Year, we will print our newspaper with eight columns on each page.

The result, we are confident, will be a brighter, more readable newspaper. And we'll be abe to get 15 per cent more column inches of material into the same number of pages as formerly.

So take a look at this last edition with the "old look," and wait patiently for a week. The "new look" promises to usher in a brighter year.

The Year 1959 Was Stormy, Survey of News Reveals

Grove Leaders Look Gloomily Into Year Ahead

Lemon Grove civic leaders are looking back on the year 1959 and noting that "nothing very positive happened."

And they are looking toward 1960 almost as gloomily.

But a survey of the happenings during the past year shows that several important things at least were started:

Officials announced that "final" plans for the improvement of Broadway were almost completed. (This announcement was made in January. Officials still are announcing that final plans are almost completed.)

San Diego city officials in February announced that, at the request of Lemon Grove citizens, they were making a survey here which could lead to the annexation of Lemon Grove to the City of San Diego. The movement received little support and eventually died. Its death followed the November, 1958, election on incorporating Lemon Grove as a separate city. This movement also died.

St. John of the Cross church was dedicated in February. And the Chamber of Commerce moved into its new offices.

In April a group of citizens formed the Lemon Grove Coordinating Council to attempt to solve some of the community's problems. In May a group of citizens formed the Lemon Grove Taxpayers Association to attempt to solve some of the individual citizen's problems.

The Coordinating Council launched a campaign to form a recreation district.

The Taxpayers Association launched a campaign to defeat the proposal.

A rousing total of 944 out of an eligible 7,203 voters turned out on December 22 to defeat the proposal 521 to 423.

And 1959 was on its way out.

But there were many, many events during the year which are worthy of note. Let's go back

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

The proposition of a recreation district for the children and adults of the Lemon Grove area was turned down by a vote of 521 to 423 last week.

The election was conducted in a truly democratic fashion and there was a minimum of personal vilification which often attends local elections. The informational material was fairly presented, too.

Yet, the issue went down to defeat. Less total votes were cast than the number of people who signed the petition asking the formation of the district.

It is hard to believe that persons who voted "no" did so because they felt we were already meeting community obligations in providing the proper vehicle for our people in their "pursuit of happiness" because there is no recreation program here now, nor is there any contemplated in the near future except those which a pitifully few of us provide by handout.

The election results indicate that there are many more people who want to be rid of the expense and responsibility of providing recreation than those who would be willing to pick up the tab for it . . . that those who voted "no" feel that the channeling of the energy of our youngsters is the responsibility of the parents rather than that of the community. Yet juvenile crime stemming from a need for an outlet for young energies must eventually be paid for by all members of the community.

It is sad to contemplate the loss of so vital a need against a backdrop of a very few dollars. The average family each month spends far more on tobacco, alcoholics peverages and on sensual pleasures (t.v. payments, movies, or merely sightseeing in the family auto) than the recreation district would have cost it all year.

The families to which a juvenile problem will come for the first time in the next twelve months (some 260 in the area annually according to the sheriff's reports) may well recall this election and the disinterest through which it failed.

A petition, signed by ten electors of the Grossmont Union High School District, was laid on the desk of the County Superintendent of Schools last week.

The petition asked that a study be made of the ten elementary school districts within the high school district's boundaries to ascertain whether or not the ten districts should be consolidated into a single one, and that this be done before a decision is reached on forming a junior college district . . . the eventual aim being coterminous boundaries for the elementary, high school and junior college districts.

Warren K. Hooper, a member of the California Farm Bureau Education Study Council and member of the County Planning Commission, said the petition was in keeping with the mandatory school district reorganization bill passed by the last Legislature.

He also said that a coordinated program from bottom to top is the ultimate goal of the petitioners.

There seem to be arguments against such a proposal however.

Sewer Assessments OK'd by Supervisors

SAN DIEGO (CNS)—Sewer assessments for a $668,622 sewer system project in Spring Valley have been approved by the County Board of Supervisors.

The board's action was taken at a public hearing postponed from two weeks earlier.

Group Asks Merging Of School Districts

A petition requesting a study of merging the 10 elementary school district within the Grossmont High School District was filed December 23 with the office of the County Superintendent of Schools.

The petition carried the names of ten electors and was circulated by Roger W. Winchester of Mexican Canyon, Jamacha. Winchester is a proponent of the formation of a junior college district in the Grossmont High School District.

In the petition, it is pointed out that a study of forming a junior college district is being made by the county's Standing Committee on School District Organization.

The petition asks that a study be given to consolidating the elementary school districts before a decision is reached on the junior college issue.

Should the various districts be consolidated, all would be placed under a single administrative control, as it is in Los Angeles.

Signers of the petition were: Winchester, a member of the Grossmont High School Citizens Advisory Committee; J. Hart Dunham, of Lakeside, member of the S.D. County Farm Bureau School Building Cost Study Committee, and past president of the Grossmont High School Citizens Advisory Committee and Warren K. Hooper, of Lakeside, member of S.D. County Planning Commission and of the Calif. Farm Bureau Education Study Council.

Two 16-year-old Spring Valley boys were injured over the weekend in one of two major auto accidents.

In the other accident, three sailors and three girls were injured when their car ran off the freeway and plunged onto Massachussets Ave. in Lemon Grove. All three sailors were attached to the Navy Fleet Sonar School. Two of the girls were from San Diego. The other was from La Mesa.

The two Spring Valley youths were injured when their car went out of control and overturned on a curve on Pince Creek Road two miles north of Highway 80. They were taken to Grossmont Hospital.

Authorities gave their names as Kent Freeman, 8851 Jamacha Rd., and Barney King, 822 Elketon Blvd.

Recreation District Plan Fails

Voters of Lemon Grove last week rejected a proposal to establish a recreation district.

Of the 7,203 eligible voters, 944 went to the polls; 423 voted in favor of the district; 521 voted against it. The total vote cast was 13 per cent of the possible total.

In rejecting the proposal, voters in many cases failed to cast votes for candidates for commissioner of the proposed district. Those who did make selections picked Dr. Robert Burns, Rev. Donald Cooke, V. J. Dorman, Mrs. Elizabeth Martin and James Spears for the five posts. Robert Bevier and Mrs. Florence Tamila trailed.

But it didn't matter about the vote on the commissioners.

There won't be any recreation district anyway.

Pomona Speaker Scheduled

Check-Burning Rite On Program for Annual Dinner

James W. Figard, manager of the Pomona Valley Shopping Center and five other such shopping centers in the Los Angeles area, will be principal speaker Tuesday at the annual installation dinner of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce.

The affair will be held at 7:30 p.m.

Larry Folda, owner of a building materials supply firm in Lemon Grove, will be installed as 1960 president. He replaces Bill Parker, a telephone company official.

Other officers to be installed Tuesday are: Jim Spears, vice president; Captain Jesse E. Lee (USN-RET.), secretary, and Robert Vaught, treasurer. Lee was manager of the chamber for 1959.

Seven directors will be seated at the affair. They are: Folda, Spears, an auto dealer; Vaught, a camera shop operator, and Captain Lee, all of whom were subsequently elected to executive office.

Others are Marshall Adams, jeweler; Sam Pernicano, restaurateur, and Ed. La Salle, automotive supply house operator.

As part of the program, Miss Helen Moulton, former manager of the El Cajon Chamber of Commerce who joined the official chamber family as paid manager for 1960, will give a report on proposed projects for 1960.

Past president Parker, who will preside at the function, will present a check to College Grove Shopping Center Department Store Operator George Scott for an obligation of $2,100 which the chamber acquired during last year's incorporation sponsorship. Scott agreed to cancel the obligation if the chamber raised a like amount by the year's end. A check burning ceremony will also be part of the program. Scott is director of the Lemon Grove Chamber.

Figard, a former promotion manager for Penney's, will discuss the effect shopping centers have on community business firms. He will also describe some activities by which community retailing organizations have profited by such centers.

President-elect Folda will present a program which he thinks is vital to the business well being of the community and urges members to join with the directors taking part in the installation affair.

Newsman to Head Organization For Coming Year

Howard A. (Tommy) Thomas, 3311 Helix St., Spring Valley, was elected president of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce, when that organization met Monday night. Thomas is managing editor of the Spring Valley Bulletin.

Other officers elected for the coming year were Chester (Chet) Smith, first vice president; Theodore (Ted) Phillips, second vice president; Les Phillips, secretary; George Hobeson, treasurer.

Installation will be held in January.

For the board of directors for a two year term it was Charles (Charlie) Serr, William (Bill) Doughman and William Zabel. Outgoing president Jesse M. Hodge automatically becomes a board member. Carryover board members for a one year term are Luke Barbour and Fred Hansen.

Prior to the meeting, Chet Smith, chairman of the newly-formed zoning committee, showed a map and explained the committee's ideas on the rezoning of the "island" of Spring Valley which has been under fire by the County Planning Commission.

County Begins Pay for Property Along Broadway

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Payments of almost $50,000 to purchase rights of way for the widening of Broadway, Lemon Grove has been authorized by the County Board of Supervisors.

Most of the payments were made to title insurance companies, on behalf of landowners. The largest single payment was one of $15,306, to Union Title Insurance Co.

Teachers, such as Mrs. Jack Lemmer who is active in California Teacher Association affairs, points out that a big district usually makes for remoteness. A teacher, she says should have personal contact with the district administration in order to feel that she is fulfilling the mission with which she is charged School board members, too, often lose the essence of trusteeship in a wide-ranging district. A Los Angeles school board member, for example, became so dis-associated with what she was trying to do as a trustee, began visiting a different elementary school every day. But she only achieved a sense of futility. The district's bigness and remoteness, she asserted, made it too much for her to grasp.

Additionally, it was reported, Los Angeles' elementary school single-administrative system has become so top heavy that it has long since absorbed the savings which at first were indicated by a consolidated district.

Whether elementary districts can be merged with high school or other districts to produce a coordinated educational program produces a question having no cut-and-dried answer.

We assume that the proponents of school district consolidation are sincere in their determination.

But if they are using consolidation as a "red herring" obstacle in the path of the formation of a junior college district, they have a mighty weapon in their hands.

Nothing, we think, will arouse the people of a community so much as somebody fiddling around with their school district particularly if it's a good school district.

The petition for consolidation, if acted upon, will create quite a ruckus hereabout and will probably develop resistance to any change in the school set-up

A rather thoughful editorial appeared recently in the "Staff Reporter," a publication of the Lemon Grove Elementary School District.

It was written by Margaret L. Lemmer, teacher at Junior High, who is also editor of the "Staff." Mrs. Lemmer offered the interesting hypothesis that a specialist, in his modern garb is not necesarily an "expert." Much respect has been lost by the "specialist" who can't measure up to the terribly strict demands the title once required, she avers.

Under the heading of "True Specialists" she develops her point thusly: "The 'specialist' was once found only in the world of science and professionals. Then he began appearing in trades and guilds. Today he is showing up practically everywhere, knowing no special age or race or culture.

He is the 'dependent' specialist who no longer acts as an individual but lets society assume his obligations and responsibilities. He worships the tax god who pays his bills, now and in the future, and he deifies insurance and all other forms of security that protect him against any and all losses.

"This specialist seems to have misplaced somewhere in his training that proper sene of values so vital to the growth and prosperity of any land. His self-discipline has weakened or disappeared in an era of inflation and income. The new generation knows nothing of depression days, and the older generation has pretended to forget.

"Can teachers honestly foster this kind of specialization? Can educators extol the virtues of rugged American pioneers and at the same time condone the "dependence" so evident in most students? Can schools face hard economic facts and still allow its products to wallow in the luxuries of installment buying, government handouts, and unpaid security?

"The individual must reassume his responsibility to himself. Frontiers are conquered by men who can face the future unafraid. What are the trainers of men, the teachers, doing to instill real values into their students?"

tion sub committee of the La Mesa-Spring Valley school district Citizen's Advisory Committee and member of the Grossmont Citizens Advisory Committee, and Robert L. Hoelscher, El Cajon, former member of the Grossmont Advisory Committee, and Ernest F. Ketnik, El Cajon, an electrical engineer.

Also: Horace S. Berry, Spring Valley, past president of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce , and Ralph E. Jack, Spring Valley, director of the Highway 94 Club.

Warren K. Hooper, one of the petitioners who lives in Lakeside, said "The last Legislature passed a mandatory re - organization school district bill and the petition is in line with it."

He said the petitioners thought it wrong to impose another administrative body, such as a junior college district, "on top of what we already have."

He said that formation of a junior college district before unification of the elementary districts would make unification of parts of the district impossible.

"The major objective," he said, "Is to provide eventually a coordinated educational program from bottom to top without looking too closely at the taxpayers' problem.

Dentist Dr. Peter Shea got a patent on a portable dental "office" which will allow dentists to help bed-ridden invalids. Fireman James Sanchez did the engineering work.

A December 22 election date was set for the recreation district vote.

DECEMBER 1959

Vandals using sling shots and steel pellets broke $1,400 worth of windows in stores and automobiles.

Six elderly patients were rescued from a fire at Cresta Loma Rest Home.

A 17-year-old San Diego youth was turned over to juvenile officers after he tried to run over a watchman at Ace Drive In Theater, knocked down several speaker posts and sideswiped several cars.

Larry Folda was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce, replacing William Parker.

The Men's Club elected Attorney William Davies president, announced that it may become a "town council" for airing community views.

The recreation district election failed, 521 to 423.

Circuit Assembly 'Huge Success,'

Carl E. Jones, presiding minister of the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, reports that the circuit assembly for San Diego and Imperial counties held at El Centro last week end was a "huge success."

A throng of 2,092 heard Bruce E. Giffin of New York speak on the subject "When will God's will be done on earth?" Commenting on man's accomplishments, Giffin noted that peace is not one of them. "Scientific advancements have been great," he said, "but delinquency, crimes, moral decay and world strife have also increased. After all this time of the will of men being done, it is time for the will of God to be done." He outlined from the Bible what God's will is, how it will come into operation, and when. He concluded with the statement that "all this will be accomplished within this generation."

Jones stated that the local congregation will resume its Bible studies, public lectures and ministry activity with increased efficiency and enthusiasm as a result of the assembly program.

☆ Camera enthusiasts are invited to compete in the photo salon at the Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival at Indio, Feb. 12 through 22.

Baptist Church Notes

Rev. Lewis Ginn and family were presented with "Space Travel" articles after last week's Christmas program. Making the presentations were Mrs. Frank Hale, Mrs. Betty Perins and Mrs. Jewel Lewis. It was kept a complete secret until the time of presentation.

Rev. Ginn is pastor of Bancroft Baptist Church.

For sighseeing purposes, Rev. Ginn received a movie projector; for keeping everyone clean, Mrs. Ginn received a wash cloth and soap;son Eldon Junior received the "Space Ship"; a beauty box and vitamin tablets went to daughter Betty; "food for space travel" (a can of pork and beans) went to the Ginn's married daughter, Mrs. Linda Duncan; and their son-in-law, Wayne Duncan, received a box of matches to "blast off the space-ship."

—o—

"Watch services" will be held at the First Baptist Church of Spring Valley, 8758 Troy St., Thursday night, starting at 8 p.m. A full length movie "Great Discovery" will be shown. All are invited, says Rev. Roland Taylor.

There will be two morning services Sunday, the first beginning at 8 a.m. and the second at 11 a.m. It will be Communion Sunday. For his morning text Rev. Taylor has chosen "Three Crosses Jesus Bore." In the evening his text will be "A Tale of Three Widows."

Inspiring Movie On Nazarene Church Schedule

A sound motion picture in color is to be shown at the Spring Valley Church of the Nazarene, 3334 Bancroft, Spring Valley, on January 3 at 6:15 p.m.

The picture, called "Thy Word Giveth Light", portrays the events in the life of a young man who as a soldier is blinded by an explosion on Anzio Beach in Italy. He is bitter until, while learning to read by means of raised dots on paper, he is introduced to the Bible in Braille. The great truths which have inspired hope in the hearts of man through the centuries bring him spiritual contentment and he is lifted from despair to a purposeful life.

An interesting and educational highlight in the film is the tracing of the various developments of raised letter printing from the early "Line Letter" system to the present widely used "Revised Braille". Also demonstrated are "Talking Book" records which are used by those unable to use any system of reading.

The film was produced for the American Bible Society, a missionary organization which has been supplying Scriptures to the blind since 1835.

Christian Science Broadcast Scheduled

"Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee" (Isa. 60:1) is the keynote of a lecture to be broadcast over Station KRKD (1150 kc.), Sunday afternoon, January 10, at 2 o'clock, from Twelfth Church of Christ, Scientist, Los Angeles. The subject will be "Christian Science: The Liberating Light of Truth." The lecturer, J. Lingen Wood, C. S., of Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

☆ California's first national horse show of the year will be held in conjunction with the Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival at Indio, Feb. 12 through 22.

To all we have served during the past year and all those we hope to serve in the coming year we extend our best wishes for 1960.

REV. H. C. BAKKEN

"RETROSPECT"

The old year is passing from the stage of time never to return. How did you use the three hundred and sixty-five days? God gave them all to you for the purpose of serving Him and your followers. You cannot go back and change anything. You can go to God for forgiveness for wasting time or using it for selfish or sinful purposes. You can go to God for grace to use the New Year better.

Once Over Lightly

by Don Wilson

If the good ladies will permit me, I shall devote today's column to the Les Eatless chapter of the Take Off Pounds Sensibly club.

I first learned about this delightful organization when Mrs. Larry F. Forrester of Lemon Grove phoned me at the office and informed me that she is publicity chairman for the club.

I must have sounded a bit puzzled because she didn't offer much explanation. Simply asked our address so she could mail me a story about the club..

It arrived, along with the information that Mrs. Robert Seigleman of La Mesa is "leader."

I phoned Mrs. Seigleman.

"What's up?" I asked.

"Our weight," she said with a small giggle.

What are you doing about it? I asked.

"We're taking pounds off sensibly," she said.

"How?" I asked.

"In any non-fad way that our doctors advise us to," she said.

"Oh," I said, "then you don't have some special gimmick like pills or bicycles without wheels?"

"No," she said, " we don't have any connection with any commercial ventures. We stay strictly away from them. And we don't go in for pills or fad diets.

"In fact, some visitors come to our club and hope that we will give them a diet that will help them take off some pounds . We don't. They have to get their diets from a doctor."

Mrs. Seigleman went on to say that the club operates as a sort of "group therapy" with the members just sitting around and gossiping about how well they are doing with their weight losing.

"We meet once a week," she said, "and weigh ourselves. Then we talk about calories and things."

So I admitted that so far I was doing allright. I understood the whole idea.

"But," I said, "your club is the TOPS, or Take Off Pounds Sensibly club. What happens when one of your members takes off as many pounds as the doctor says she should take off? Do you all give her a farewell party or something and scratch her name off the membership list?"

"Oh, no!" said Mrs. Seigleman. "When any member reaches her desired weight, she simply becomes a member of the KOPS (Keep Off Pounds, etc.) and goes right on meeting with us."

"Speaking of meetings," I said, "when do you and where?"

"Last month," she said, "we met at Mrs. Forrester's house. This month (January) we will meet at the home of Mrs. Eva Berry, at 884 Bonsall in San Diego.

Mrs. Seigleman said that there are 16 members in the club now and they have been organized for about two months. Les Eatless, she said, is the local chapter of TOPS, which is a national organization.

"We are, if you will excuse the expression," she said "spreading out."

I wished them luck.

Square Dance News . . .

Country Cousins were visited by three couples from the Gypsy Squares recently.

New officers elected December 19: president, Dick and Alice Wrightson; vice president, Harvey and Lois Pettis; treasurer Dave and Aonia Davis; recording secretary, Leighton and Mildred Snyder; corresponding secretary, George and Helen Chapman; publicity chairman, Ken and Bernice Tharp; Heartland representative, Van and Carol Tibbetts; board member, Reuben and Lena Timm.

—o—

Frontier Squares starts the year off with a newly elected slate of officers: President, Carl (Marie) Lorenzen, vice president Red (Maxine) Adams; publicity chairman, Leona Nelson; secretary, Bertha Bowman and Tommy Foster, and treasurer Fey Vera Horton.

A "joint" board meeting and installation of officers was held at the home of Bob (Amy) Changnon. A delightful schedule of square dancing was programmed for the new year. For example, the club's 4th Saturday party night dance for January will carry a tantalizing "Chinese New Years" theme.

The club will continue to dance on the second and fourth Saturday night at Spring Valley Junior High School on Conrad Street off Campo Road.

Happy New Year! We hope the year ahead will be the most successful of many and that you'll have great happiness.

America has been built upon the principal of free enterprise. Capital comes only from savings, and savings means thrift. Benjamin Franklin, who founded the principle of American finance, said: "It's not what you earn -- but what you save. It's not what you have -- but what you owe against it -- that determines financial stability."

DOROTHY DIGS in the garden

If you are going to set out bare root roses, get them immediately while there is still a good choice in the nurseries and garden supply shops.

The last week of this month, I always devote this column to roses so that you may have the advantage of any suggestions I can give at the time you are ready to do your pruning, which should not be done in Southern California until between the 1st and 15th of February.

I recommend the use of agricultural sulphur in your rose beds at this time of year. . .use two pounds to each 100 square feet (a space 10 x 10 feet). Impregnate it into the soil lightly with a pronged fork so as not to disturb the fiber roots.

School District Eyes Spring Vote

Glenn Murdock, superintendent of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, told the board of education Monday night that an election is necessary to ask for a tax increase and authority to borrow $6 million from the State. He said this will be necessary if the LM-SV School Dist. is to maintain its present education quality. He suggested that the election be held sometime in the spring. He indicated that a date will be set soon.

The district has been operating on a $1.70 tax rate, which is the maximum levy without an override election. This rate is to run through 1962.

Fred Lance, Dstrict business manager, said that is is expected the present 11.500 enrollment will rise to 18,000 during the 1962-63 school year. He said that at that time it is expected the assessed valuation of the District will jump from $67½ million to $102 million.

Glenn Murdock said that rising costs stem from construction, teachers wages, maintenance of buildings, text books, supplies, etc.

In other business of the board of education Monday night, a contract was let to the Calif. Fire and Equipment of San Diego to clean and flameproof room darkeningl curtains for all schools in the LM-SV School Dist. The low bid was $5,347.56

Waitress Faces Court Hearing In Gunshot Case

Mrs. Geraldine McCourry, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, faces a preliminary hearing in El Cajon Municipal Court at 3 p.m. on January 7.

She is accused of critically wounding Henry Edsel Davenport, 35, by shooting him twice in the chest with a 45 caliber automatic pistol on December 12.

He was still in "serious" condition this week in Grossmont Hospital.

Sheriff's deputies said that Mrs. McCourry, 38, employed by Davenport at his Linda's Cafe at 3557 Calavo Dr., Spring Valley, as a waitress, shot Davenport after he accused her of consorting with other men and called her a "tramp."

Officers said that Mrs. McCourry got the pistol from under her bed in the apartment which she shared with Davenport at 7902 Lester in Lemon Grove and shot him as he came toward her from another bedroom.

She then phoned for an ambulance.

Police said that Davenport had been carrying on an argument with Mrs, McCourry "for several days" and had been "shoving her around." They found the wounded man lying at the door of a bedroom in the apartment with the gun lying beside him, smeared with blood.

Mrs. McCourry was booked at the county jail, but released later on bail.
